Consumer Directed Plan Options

Physicians Care offers a full range of consumer directed health plan options: Health Savings Accounts (HSA), Health Reimbursement Arrangements (HRA) and more traditional Flexible Spending Accounts (FSA). Physicians Care also offers access to one or more of these accounts through a convenient debit card, and our website offers the information necessary to help covered individuals manage their health benefits.

Each consumer directed plan option has unique characteristics. We can assist you with evaluating each, and help you make the best choice.

Health Savings Accounts

HSAs are employee owned accounts that can be funded by both the employee and employer. Once an employer contributes funds to an HSA, those dollars belong to the employee and follow the employee upon termination of employment. The employee can spend HSA funds on any eligible health care expense allowed by law.

An HSA can be set up and utilized only by an individual that is enrolled in a qualified high deductible health plan (HDHP). The federal government sets the minimum deductibles and maximum out-of-pocket limits of an HDHP and adjusts them annually for changes in the cost-of-living.

We can coordinate HDHP administration with the HSA investment account selected by employees or we can help you establish an investment account with convenient debit card access.

Health Reimbursement Arrangements

HRAs can be funded only by an employer; employees cannot contribute to an HRA. The employer simply funds HRA eligible expenses as they are submitted to and approved by Physicians Care.

In contrast to HSAs, employers have more discretion in designing the HRA plan and the companion health plan. Some employers allow employees to use HRA credits to fund a range of out-of-pocket medical expenses.

expenses, while others choose to restrict the use of HRA credits to fund a covered individual’s deductible and co-payments. Rollovers of HRA balances from year to year are allowed, but an employer can choose not to allow rollovers or limit the amounts that can be rolled over. HRAs are usually set up with health plans that have high deductibles and significant annual out-of-pocket limits.

Physicians Care offers several HRA and companion health plan options. We also help employers design custom plans to meet their unique needs.

Flexible Spending Accounts
FSAs have been around much longer than HSAs or HRAs and are often viewed as a first step toward a consumer directed strategy. FSAs are easy for employees to understand, and funding is flexible since both the employer and the employees can contribute.

Employers who want to gradually increase their health plan’s annual deductibles and co-payments can use FSAs to help their employees fund the higher out-of-pocket expenses on a pretax basis. Employees can also use an FSA to pay for a variety of health care expenses that might not be covered by their health plan, like over-the-counter drugs, or vision and dental expenses.

We make it easy for employers to offer an FSA to their employees and we can coordinate claim submissions to make a Physicians Care health plan an even more attractive benefit to employees.
